FOREWORD

The Short-Term Restorative Care (STRC) Programme is an innovative new programme that provides early intervention care that aims to optimise the functioning and independence of older people and to reverse and/or slow functional decline. STRC is delivered in the form of a tailored, multidisciplinary package of services which includes the provision of services and assistance such as physiotherapy, social work, nursing support, personal care and the provision of assistive technologies to enable older people to regain independence and autonomy rather than commencing long term care prematurely.

The STRC Programme Manual (the manual) is a resource for approved providers of STRC to assist their understanding of the policy context and operational requirements for delivery of STRC to clients in the home or a residential care setting. The manual also outlines the responsibilities of approved providers under the Aged Care Act 1997 (the Act), and its subordinate legislation which govern the operation of the programme.

I trust you will find the manual a valuable tool.

Debra Thoms
First Assistant Secretary
Ageing and Aged Care Services Division
Department of Health
CHAPTER 1: ABOUT THE MANUAL

This manual provides information on how the STRC Programme is to be delivered. The manual must be read in conjunction with the Act and the various principles under the Act.

1.1 What the manual contains
The manual explains the Australian Government’s policy and legislative context and operational requirements for the provision of STRC within the home or residential care settings. It outlines the responsibilities of approved providers delivering STRC.

1.2 Enforceability of the manual
Compliance with the manual is mandatory as it is a condition of allocation applying to all STRC places.

1.3 How the manual will be updated
The Department of Health (the Department) will update the manual, as required, to ensure its currency and accuracy. When significant amendments have been made, approved providers delivering STRC will be notified of the update.

1.4 Feedback
The Department welcomes any comments on the manual. To provide feedback, please email strc@health.gov.au. Feedback received will be incorporated where appropriate at the discretion of the department.

1.5 Key definitions
For a full list of terms used in this document please see the glossary.

1.5.1 Client
Where the term client is used in this manual it is intended to refer to a consumer, My Aged Care client, veteran or other person applying for, or in receipt of, STRC. The aged care legislation (see Attachment A) uses the term care recipient to refer to persons in receipt of a particular type of care. In certain circumstances, particularly where referring to legislation, the term client is replaced with care recipient in this manual.

1.5.2 Carer¹
The Carer Recognition Act 2010 (https://www.legislation.gov.au/Latest/C2010A00123) says a carer is someone who provides care and support for a relative or friend who:

- has a disability
- has a mental health problem
- has a medical problem (including an illness that’s gone on for a long time, or an illness that’s expected to end in death)
- is frail aged.

Some state and territory laws are based on this Act, and others are not. But all of them are similar.

A person is not considered to be a carer if they are employed to look after someone, if they work as a volunteer for an organisation, or if they are doing work experience as part of a course.

1.5.2 Approved provider

An approved provider for STRC is a person or body falling within the definition of approved provider in schedule 1 of the Act to whom an allocation of STRC places is in force. A STRC service is a service through which STRC is provided that is operated either by or on behalf of an approved provider as defined in this section.

1.5.3 End of life care

End of life care is defined as care delivered following a final decision made by a doctor and care team to commence a person on an end of life (terminal) care pathway once they have shown symptoms or physical changes suggesting that they may be dying.²

1.6 Legislative framework

The Act and its subordinate legislation (listed in Attachment A), provide the legislative framework for the administration and delivery of the STRC Programme. This manual must be considered in conjunction with the legislative framework. It is essential that approved providers become familiar with their responsibilities under the legislation when delivering the STRC Programme.

Throughout the manual, specific references are made to relevant sections of the legislation. These references are hyperlinked to the appropriate section of the Act or this Manual and should be referred to when requiring more detailed clarification.

The relevant legislation and related links are at Attachment A.

1.6.1 Non-Compliance with legislation

Divisions 64 to 68 of the Act outline the consequences of non-compliance by approved providers.

Approved providers are required to meet all the conditions specified in the legislation and note that failure to comply with the legislation may result in non-compliance action being taken.

² End of Life [Terminal] Care Pathways, Fact Sheet (10) dated March 2016
CHAPTER 2: THE STRC PROGRAMME

2.1 Policy background

In the 2015-16 Budget, the Australian Government announced the expansion of flexible aged care initiatives to include STRC.

The STRC Programme, in conjunction with the Commonwealth Home Support Programme (CHSP), Home Care Packages (HCP) Programme, residential aged care and other specialised aged care programmes, forms part of an end-to-end aged care system offering older people a continuum of care options as their care needs change over time. A comparative table outlining the objectives and requirements of these programmes, including the STRC Programme, is at Attachment B.

2.2 Objectives

The STRC Programme is an early intervention programme that aims to reverse and/or slow ‘functional decline’ in older people and improve wellbeing through the delivery of a time-limited (up to 56 paid days), goal-oriented, multidisciplinary and coordinated range of services designed for, and approved by, the client. STRC services may be delivered in a home care setting, a residential care setting, or a combination of both.

STRC is ideal for people who are:

- goal-oriented and have the desire to return to earlier or improved levels of independence; and
- not currently receiving residential care, home care or transition care.\(^3\)

While ‘functional decline’ is defined as the ‘reduced ability to perform tasks of everyday living due to a decrease in physical and/or cognitive functioning’, the STRC Programme should also be inclusive of a client’s medical, physical, social and psychological needs. A comprehensive description of how functional decline relates to the STRC Programme follows.

\(^3\) Note: Receipt of CHSP services or the DVA services listed at 4.3.3 does not affect a person’s eligibility for STRC.
2.2.1 What is functional decline?

Functional decline is a term used throughout Ageing and Clinical Health literature and is interpreted in a variety of ways.\(^4\) Functional decline is most frequently synonymous with describing the loss of an individual’s physical or mental ability, particularly in reference to individuals aged 65 years or older.\(^5\) The department’s preferred definition defines functional decline as “the reduced ability to perform a task of everyday living due to a decrement on physical and/or cognitive functioning”.\(^6\) Functional decline can therefore be interpreted as losing the ability to carry out activities of daily living such as bathing, dressing, feeding, shopping or driving, due to increasing age or frailty.\(^7\)

Characteristics and indicators of functional decline

A broad interpretation of functional decline has led to a wide range of indicators being drawn upon in order to detect and prevent its prevalence amongst ageing populations.\(^8\) The department identified three factors which are typically associated with functional decline.\(^9\) These being age, level of dependence when undertaking daily living activities and impaired memory.\(^10\) Research also discusses the use of frailty indicators as a measure to determine functional decline.\(^11\) When three or more of the frailty indicators (slow walking speed, measured impaired grip strength, self-reported declined activity, exhaustion and unintended weight loss) are present then an individual is seen as experiencing functional decline.\(^12\)

What is functional decline for the purpose of STRC eligibility?

For the purpose of STRC, functional decline should continue to reflect current literature and be defined as a progressive loss in an individual’s mental and/or physical ability, which reduces their ability to perform everyday living tasks.\(^13\) From this definition a combination of indicators should be used to determine when an individual is experiencing, or about to experience functional decline. The indicators found to be most successful in detecting functional decline centre upon assessing an individual’s age, ability to complete everyday living tasks, memory and level of physical activity.\(^14\) Individuals considered eligible for STRC are those whose functional decline (as determined through the clinical indicators) can be slowed or reversed, through a multidisciplinary intervention within the space of 56 days. Individuals should also only be deemed eligible for STRC on the understanding that without such intervention the individual would lose independence to an extent that they would likely require ongoing home care, residential care, or care through a multi-purpose service.

2.3 Definition of STRC

STRC is defined in section 106A of the Subsidy Principles 2014 (https://www.legislation.gov.au/Latest/F2016C00454) as:

A form of flexible care that:

a. is aimed at reversing and/or slowing ‘functional decline’ in older people through provision of a package of care and services designed for, and approved by, the individual;

b. depending on the needs of the care recipient, is provided in either or both of the following settings:
   i. a residential care setting;
   ii. a home care setting; and

c. can be characterised as:
   i. goal-oriented;
   ii. multidisciplinary; and
   iii. time-limited.

2.4 Key features of STRC

- A goal oriented, multidisciplinary package of care designed to meet the client’s needs to help them stay at home and help defer entry into higher levels of care.
- Access into STRC is due to functional decline (not linked to a recent hospital admission) resulting in a client needing assistance for a short period of time.
- It provides a high intensity short-term period of care (up to a maximum of 56 days).
- A client can have up to a maximum of 7 days leave, during which subsidy is not paid to the care provider. This is in addition to the 56 paid days / 8 paid weeks of care.
- STRC can be accessed twice within a 12 month period however each period of care will require an Aged Care Assessment Team (ACAT) assessment.
- STRC is a higher value multidisciplinary package of care (starting at $202.98 per day per client up to a maximum of 56 days ($11,366.88).\(^{15}\)
- A client may be asked to pay a daily care fee, with the exception of when they are on leave.
- The care and services provided need to be multidisciplinary in nature and drawn from the relevant specified care and services schedule and be agreed in a care plan with the client as part of their Flexible Care Agreement.

2.5 Overview of roles and responsibilities

There are six key entities that have roles and responsibilities in the delivery of the STRC Programme:

- Australian Government
- Approved STRC providers
- My Aged Care Regional Assessment Services (RAS)
- ACATs\(^{16}\)
- The Aged Care Complaints Commissioner (Complaints Commissioner)
- The Australian Aged Care Quality Agency.

The roles of each of the abovementioned entities are broadly outlined below.

\(^{15}\) Subsidy rate is current as at 1 July 2017 and may be subject to future changes (e.g., indexation).

\(^{16}\) Note, in Victoria, an ACAT is referred to as an Aged Care Assessment Service (ACAS). Where ACAT is used throughout the Manual, it is intended that ACAS is interchangeable.
2.5.1 Australian Government

The Australian Government’s roles and responsibilities in relation to the programme are to:

- develop and implement national policies to meet the objectives of this programme
- administer the programme, including the development and maintenance of the programme manual
- allocate STRC places under the Act and pay a subsidy for each occupied STRC place for care and services delivered to clients in accordance with the programme
- collaborate with approved providers in the evaluation of the programme and reporting of STRC data
- if non-compliance is identified in relation to the relevant standards or framework, and it has not been addressed through Australian Aged Care Quality Agency actions, the department may take action to require the approved provider to address non-compliance through regulatory pathways.

The Australian Government’s role in the programme is primarily undertaken by the Department and the Department of Human Services (DHS).

2.5.2 Approved STRC providers

The responsibilities of approved providers are set out in detail in Chapter 3 of this manual. Approved providers are required to:

- manage the day-to-day delivery and coordination of care to STRC clients
- ensure quality care is provided in accordance with relevant quality standards
- manage complaints, and where necessary cooperate with the Complaints Commissioner to resolve complaints received by the Complaints Commissioner
- collaborate in programme evaluation activities by recording each client’s Modified Barthel Index (MBI)\(^{17}\) score and providing feedback on STRC eligibility requirements to the Australian Government for inclusion in the national evaluation of the programme
- meet the data reporting requirements set by the Australian Government
- establish mechanisms to ensure that the requirements of this programme manual are met.

2.5.3 My Aged Care

The My Aged Care website and related functionalities:

a. Play a crucial role in the timely assessment of prospective STRC clients by:
   - screening prospective STRC clients to determine their current needs and care arrangements
   - quickly referring prospective STRC clients for an ACAT assessment.

b. Provides details of STRC and other aged care provider services which facilitate access to STRC places by My Aged Care clients.

2.5.4 Regional Assessment Service (RAS)

Clients are referred to the RAS for assessment in those instances where a My Aged Care screening indicates that a client requires low level community care. Should a RAS Assessor consider a person may benefit from STRC, they must refer them for assessment by an ACAT.

\(^{17}\) An overview of the Modified Barthel Index can be found under section 3.13 – Evaluation and Reporting
2.5.5 Aged Care Assessment Teams (ACATs)

ACATs are required to:

- conduct comprehensive assessments of the physical, medical, psychological, cultural, social and restorative dimensions of clients’ care needs, and provide a choice of appropriate services to meet their needs
- provide information and refer clients to services – such as STRC – that are appropriate and available (including facilitating access to broader services such as CHSP, or mental health or disability services) to meet their needs and preferences
- provide care coordination to the point of effective referral. 18

2.5.6 The Complaints Commissioner

The Complaints Commissioner (https://www.agedcarecomplaints.gov.au/) handles and investigates any complaint relating to Australian Government subsidised aged care services, including STRC services. Contact details are provided under Section 3.11.2 below.

2.5.7 The Quality Agency

The Quality Agency is the accreditation body for residential aged care homes. It conducts quality reviews of CHSP and home care services, registers quality assessors; and provides information, education and training. The Quality Agency may identify non-compliance with the flexible care standards and require remedial action.

2.6 Becoming an STRC provider

In order to be allocated an STRC place, prospective providers must be an approved provider of flexible care. There are two forms that organisations may use to apply for approved provider status:

Form A - for applicants that are not approved providers of aged care

This form is for organisations that are not currently approved providers of aged care and would like to apply to become approved providers for residential care, home care and/or flexible care.

Note: If you are currently only providing services under the CHSP and would like to apply to become an approved provider, you should complete Form A and indicate the care type(s) you would like to apply for, ensuring you complete all the relevant sections.

Form B - for existing approved providers seeking approval to provide another type of care

This form is for existing approved providers that have already demonstrated their suitability to provide aged care through a previous assessment process. It seeks more specific detail about providing an additional type of care.

Both forms, together with guidance material, are available on the Department’s website (https://agedcare.health.gov.au/aged-care-funding/approved-provider-information).

18 Examples of effective referral include:

- An STRC provider agreeing to provide an STRC episode to the client,
- a carer who is willing to assume responsibility for coordinating service provision being identified and taking on that role, or
- a home care provider agreeing to provide a HCP for the client.
If you have any queries about the approved provider application process, please send an email to the approved provider team (ApprovedProviderApplications@health.gov.au) and include your name and contact details.

If you are an existing approved provider of another care type and would like to enquire whether your flexible care status has lapsed, please contact your state or territory office (http://health.gov.au/internet/main/publishing.nsf/Content/health-state.htm) of the Department.

Prospective providers must be allocated STRC places by the Department before they will be able to claim the STRC subsidy. The allocation of STRC places happens by way of the competitive process set out in Part 2.2 of the Act. In practice, this means that prospective providers will need to be successful in acquiring an allocation of STRC places through an Aged Care Approvals Round (ACAR), or similar.

To be successful in a competitive process, prospective providers will need to meet a number of selection criteria, including demonstrated experience in delivering restorative care that would meet the objectives of the STRC Programme and ensure appropriate outcomes for clients.

STRC providers must register on My Aged Care in order to receive client referrals. Those providers who have been allocated STRC places but have not registered on My Aged Care can find details of the My Aged Care registration process on the Department’s website (https://agedcare.health.gov.au/our-responsibilities/ageing-and-aged-care/programs-services/my-aged-care/information-for-service-providers).
CHAPTER 3: STRC DELIVERY REQUIREMENTS

To maximise the effectiveness of the STRC Programme and ensure that care delivery achieves the programme’s policy objective, STRC must be delivered in accordance with the following requirements. STRC service providers should note that compliance with these requirements is a condition of allocation attached to each allocation of STRC places.

3.1 Programme management

STRC providers are required to manage the day-to-day care coordination and delivery of care as part of the STRC Programme. This includes:

- Assisting in the admission of clients to STRC and subsequent case coordination of the services provided;
- Offering to enter into a Flexible Care Agreement with eligible clients (see section 3.3 and 3.4);
- Providing services in accordance with the Flexible Care Agreement and care plan, on a 7-day a week basis, including weekends and any public holidays falling within the STRC period;
- Having appropriate processes in place to receive, record and resolve complaints and handle them fairly, promptly, confidentially and without retribution;
- Reporting (activity, financial and quality) as per programme requirements including the provision to the Department, upon request, of de-identified client data (noting that the Department may request this data from time to time); and
- Ensuring that service level information on My Aged Care including, contacts, service availability, and support plan information are kept up to date, through the provider portal.

Note: Providers will need to be set up in My Aged Care to access the provider portal, manage referrals and view the client record including assessment and approval information. The approved provider should ensure all service availability and waitlist information is up to date in the provider portal so the ACAT can make appropriate referrals on the My Aged Care system. Further information and resources for My Aged Care are available on the Department’s website (https://agedcare.health.gov.au/our-responsibilities/ageing-and-aged-care/programs-services/my-aged-care/information-for-service-providers). Providers can also obtain system support from the My Aged Care assessor and provider helpline on 1800 836 799.

3.2 Service delivery

In delivering STRC, service providers must:

- Provide care in accordance with a care plan that forms part of the Flexible Care Agreement;
- Utilise a multidisciplinary care approach via multidisciplinary teams (MDT);
- Provide the care and services specified in the Specified Care and Services for STRC Services, where required by the client, and in accordance with the Flexible Care Standards;
- Provide a coherent and integrated case coordination process that enables clients to meet their goals and takes into consideration the psycho-social situation of the client;
- Actively promote self-management and self-sufficiency by providing interventions that support the client to make the most of their own capacity and achieve their full potential;
- Encourage clients to seek support from carers and families, community groups and others to foster their independence when required; and
- Assist clients to achieve an optimum level of independence and wellbeing so that care needs are minimised over the longer term.
STRC providers must ensure clients receive timely and appropriate access to therapy, care and equipment during the STRC episode. To meet this requirement, STRC providers must:

- Provide a broad range of services tailored to meet the client’s goals to improve or maintain function.
- Provide the client with therapy from appropriately qualified staff to achieve their individual documented goals.
- Ensure aids, appliances, equipment and services required for a client’s therapy are provided in a timely manner.
- Actively encourage clients, and/or their representatives, carers and family to participate in all aspects of STRC service provision.
- Ensure that the client’s progress against therapy goals is regularly evaluated throughout their STRC episode and on exit, with changes in physical and cognitive function measured and recorded to demonstrate achievement of the client’s goals.
- Ensure that clients’ changing needs are reflected as they move between care settings.
- Ensure that client goals are delivered in accordance with the care plan, using an integrated case coordination approach.

Note: Technologies are moving very quickly and the department is not prescriptive about the types of aids, appliances and equipment used other than that they must assist a client to return to their community at an optimum level of physical and cognitive functioning if that is possible.

3.2.1 Service responses

To support innovative and flexible methods of care delivery, any of the types of care and services that can currently be provided in home care or residential care, can also be provided in STRC, based on the needs of the client as outlined in the agreed flexible care agreement and the care plan.

Care will vary from person to person, ranging from services that improve a client’s capacity for independent living to services that enable the client to return to their community at an optimum level of physical and cognitive functioning. An indication of the range and types of services that must be provided to clients where needed is at Chapter 6: Specified care and services for STRC.

Some people entering STRC are likely to have dementia or be experiencing a level of cognitive impairment. Supporting clients with dementia to live well and to their full potential as the disease progresses could encompass the provision of a range of appropriate support programmes, developing new coping skills, and having technologies introduced to the home that can enable clients to retain their independence and live well at home for a longer period of time.

3.2.2 Service areas

The conditions of allocation attached to allotments of STRC places enable the delivery of care anywhere within the specified state / territory. However, priority of access must be given to persons in the region(s) targeted by the service in its application for places.

3.2.3 Service settings

Under section 49-3 of the Act, flexible care is defined as “care provided in a residential or community setting through an aged care service that addresses the needs of clients in alternative ways to the care provided through residential care services and home care services”.

The service setting associated with a given allotment of STRC places is set by their conditions of allocation. The forms needed to vary the conditions of allocation attached to STRC places are available on the department’s website (https://agedcare.health.gov.au/for-providers/forms/management-of-places-forms-for-approved-providers). Applications to vary the conditions of allocation attached to STRC places are considered by the Secretary of the Department in accordance with Division 17 of the Act. Applications are subject to the Secretary’s approval.
There are three possible service settings: residential, home, or a combination of both. The settings STRC may be delivered in are defined in section 4 of the Subsidy Principles 2014 (https://www.legislation.gov.au/Latest/F2016C00454) as follows:

- Home care setting: STRC is provided in a home care setting if it is not provided in a residential care facility
- Residential care setting: STRC is provided in a residential care setting if it is provided through a residential care service

Where a provider is able to deliver in both settings, their STRC clients can move from one setting to another within the same care episode, e.g., from residential to home-based care. To enable such a move, each service is able to change the mix of places delivered in a residential or home care setting on a daily basis, if required, within the limits of the number of places it has been allocated. STRC services are not required to refer the clients for an ACAT re-assessment to support a move between settings. It should be noted that it is also possible that they may move between locations within the same setting in the same care episode.

Approved providers delivering in both settings are able to determine the mix of care delivery settings within the defined period of STRC support in line with individual client needs.

3.2.4 Provision of STRC in a residential care setting

The residential care facilities from which an STRC service may deliver STRC are listed in the conditions of allocation associated with the service’s STRC places. The forms needed to vary the conditions of allocation attached to STRC places are available on the Department’s website (https://agedcare.health.gov.au/for-providers/forms/management-of-places-forms-for-approved-providers). Applications to vary the conditions of allocation attached to STRC places are considered by the Secretary of the Department in accordance with Division 17 of the Act. Applications are subject to the Secretary’s approval.

It is not intended that STRC will reduce access to the number of residential aged care places. Rather, STRC places are considered to be additional to other aged care places.

When providing STRC in a residential care setting, providers are expected to provide services that meet the relevant care standards, and that reflect the intent of the programme to optimise the client’s health and independence.

STRC service providers are required to ensure that residential-based STRC services are provided in a less institutional environment (noting that many existing residential care facilities provide such a setting as normal practice).
Service Delivery Setting
Providers of residential based STRC services are expected to provide services that reflect the intent of the STRC Programme and meet the following criteria for a more home-like environment.

Residential STRC services are provided in a more home-like, less institutional setting, with the setting including:
- communal living space / living room environment completely separate from sleeping areas and location of acute / subacute care provision, i.e. a space that encourages family / carers and visitors to spend time with clients
- a dining area so clients are encouraged not to eat in bed
- clients being encouraged and supported to dress every day
- facilities to prepare snacks etc by the client themselves or visitors
- privacy particularly for personal care and bathing arrangements
- space for clients to be mobile especially outdoors
- physical arrangements which support the involvement of carers in the care activities
- a model of care and staff knowledge that supports the intent of the STRC Programme to promote the client’s health and independence.

3.2.5 Provision of STRC in a home care setting
When providing STRC in a home care setting, providers are expected to provide services that meet the relevant care standards, and that reflect the intent of the programme to optimise the client’s health and independence. The home care setting is deliberately widely defined to enable providers flexibility to develop creative and effective models.

3.3 Flexible Care Agreement
STRC service providers, or their nominee, must offer and remain ready at all times, to enter into a Flexible Care Agreement with a client and/or with their representative. The Agreement should be developed in consultation with the client, carer or family member where applicable and include a care plan addressing the client’s physical and cognitive needs identified in the ACAT assessment. To address these needs, consultation with a multidisciplinary care team is required with coordination undertaken by the approved provider.

Prospective clients must be offered a Flexible Care Agreement that includes an agreed date for the commencement of the provision of services.

The Flexible Care Agreement must comply with the following requirements:
- include an interim care plan that meets the requirements set out in section 3.4 below;
- include a clear statement of the fees payable by the client and how amounts of each fee are to be worked out;
- provide for the giving of financial information to the client, including the costs of services received by the client at a frequency agreed upon with the client;
- state the date for the commencement of STRC;
- state dates on which the care plan will be reviewed;
- specify the conditions under which either party may terminate the care service;
- provide an exit strategy for the client once STRC is completed, including the expected date of cessation of STRC, the service arrangements that are expected to be in place for the client following STRC: a carer briefing, and the client’s consent for the exit strategy;
- provide that any variation to the Flexible Care Agreement must be by mutual consent, following adequate consultation, with the client and/or their representative and the STRC service provider, and only after the provider has given reasonable notice in writing about the proposed variation to the client;
not be varied in a way that is inconsistent with the Act, Aged Care (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997, their principles or the A New Tax System (Goods and Services Tax) Act 1999;

- state the range of services that the client has been assessed as requiring in their care plan, how these services will be provided, including how these services are provided in relation to any other services being provided, and any limits that will be placed on the services to be provided;
- state the client’s rights and responsibilities in relation to decisions about the service that he or she is to receive;
- include a guarantee that all reasonable steps will be taken to protect the confidentiality of information provided by the client, and details of the purpose for which the information may be used by the approved provider;
- state that the client is entitled to make, without fear of reprisal, any complaint about the provision of STRC, and state all of the mechanisms available for making a complaint. This refers to both internal complaint mechanisms and external complaint mechanisms; and
- be expressed in plain language.

STRC providers must comply with the terms of the Flexible Care Agreement.

In setting out the rights of a client of STRC, the Flexible Care Agreement must include the following rights:

- full and effective use of his or her personal, civil, legal and consumer rights;
- for STRC delivered in a residential care setting, to be in a safe, secure and comfortable environment;
- to have clear, easy to read written information about his or her rights, care, accommodation and any other information that relates to the client personally;
- to be involved in deciding and choosing the care most appropriate to meet their needs;
- to be given enough information to make an informed choice about their care;
- to receive care that takes account of their lifestyle, cultural, linguistic and religious preferences;
- to be given a written plan of the services they will receive;
- to take part in social activities and communal life as fully as possible;
- to be treated with dignity, with their privacy respected;
- to complain about the care they are receiving, including the manner in which it is being provided, without fear of losing the care or being disadvantaged in any other way; and
- to choose a person to speak on their behalf for any purpose.

If a client has declined to sign a Flexible Care Agreement with the STRC service provider, the STRC service provider must:

- in all dealings with the client comply with the requirements in the Flexible Care Agreement as far as they are applicable, as if the client had signed the Flexible Care Agreement;
- make and retain a written record of the nature and level of care that has been verbally or otherwise agreed with the client and the circumstances that led to the client declining to sign the Flexible Care Agreement.

The Flexible Care Agreement may be varied during the STRC episode. If needed or requested by a client or their representative during a period of provision of STRC, the STRC service provider must conduct a formal review of the agreement.

The STRC service provider must draw the current Specified Care and Services for STRC Services and the Flexible Care Standards to the attention of the client or their representative. Where the client has signed a Flexible Care Agreement, the provider should attach copies of the Specified Care and Services for STRC Services and the Flexible Care Standards to the Agreement.
A Flexible Care Agreement must not contain any provision that would have the effect of the client being treated less favourably in relation to any matter than the client would otherwise be treated, under this agreement or any law of the Commonwealth, in relation to that matter.

Unless the STRC client has chosen not to sign it, the Flexible Care Agreement must be signed by the STRC service provider, or their nominee, and the client or their representative and, in those instances where the carer undertakes to continue their caring role throughout the episode of care and thereafter, the carer.

Where required, the STRC service provider must provide guidance and access to interpreter or translator services, in order to assist clients in understanding Specified Care and Service for STRC Services, the Flexible Care Standards, their Care Plan and the Flexible Care Agreement.

3.4 Care Plan design

Short-term restorative care must be delivered in a way that empowers clients to influence the design and delivery of the services they will receive. Clients should also be provided with enough information to make an informed decision about their care.

Integral to this is the development of an agreed interim care plan, which forms part of the Flexible Care Agreement.

The interim care plan must articulate the needs and goal(s) of the client. Shortly after entering care, the client must be provided with a refined and further detailed care plan by the multidisciplinary team (MDT). The MDT will determine the full range of care and services that the client agrees will be provided, how those services will be delivered, who will deliver them and how the services will address the client’s identified functional decline. The case conference undertaken by the MDT, in consultation with the client and their carer will result in the following being developed and agreed:

1. Full schedule of services to be provided outlined in detail;
2. range of different care and services that are part of the intensive therapy;
3. any transition arrangements;
4. any equipment required; and
5. other important service delivery details including if any leave is required by the client.

In developing the care plan, STRC service providers must:

- ensure that care planning is carried out by at least three members of a MDT with relevant clinical experience in reversing / stabilising functional decline, and coordinate the assessment of the client’s care needs through the MDT at the beginning of the STRC episode, including the measurement of a baseline level of functioning using a MBI;
- assess and take into account the clients’ physical and cognitive independence, as well as their psycho-social needs;
- ensure that STRC service provision will be coordinated with existing support services (e.g., CHSP services or DVA Services listed under 4.3.3);
- ensure care plan reviews / case conferencing include those members of the MDT involved in the client’s treatment and occur as required and/or at predetermined intervals during the provision of STRC;
- allow clients or their representatives, assisted by carers and families as appropriate, to make informed choices between STRC service options in order to define and set their goals to stabilise and/or reverse their functional decline, optimise their independence and improve their wellbeing;

19 A definition of functional decline for the purpose of STRC can be found in Chapter 2 or in the glossary.
be considerate of, and responsive to, the needs of special needs groups as defined in section 11-3 of the Act; and be considerate of, and responsive to, the needs of people who have a physical or cognitive impairment.

The care plan must:
- enable care delivery to respond to the identified needs of the client and target those goals which will reverse and/or stabilise the identified functional decline, optimise independence and improve wellbeing while taking into consideration the psycho-social needs of the client;
- identify how funding and client care fees will be spent, including how much each service response costs, and how much will be spent on administrative costs (including care coordination);
- provide the client with required therapies and treatments designed to support the client to achieve their goal(s);
- aim to improve the client’s functioning by promoting independence; and
- provide for the ongoing monitoring of its success in achieving the client’s goals in consultation with the client and/or their representative, carers and families, clinicians, and therapists.

3.5 Multidisciplinary Care

The aim of the STRC Programme is to:
- Support clients to regain their ability to carry out activities of daily life after an assessment;
- Help clients to manage new or changing health conditions; and
- Provide assistance to clients so that they can live as independently as possible.

STRC must be delivered using a multidisciplinary care approach via multidisciplinary teams (MDTs). It is important to note that both the care planning phase, and the service delivery phase must be carried out using a multidisciplinary care approach.

For the purpose of STRC, multidisciplinary care is defined as a practice of care in which three or more specialist care providers from different disciplines collaborate to provide a client with comprehensive, outcome-focused treatment.

As each client will have different needs, MDT members should be selected based on client need. The ACAT assessment should indicate the types of assistance the client needs (including but not limited to the treating GP and/or geriatrician, occupational therapists, physiotherapists, podiatrists, dietitians, registered nurses and optometrists).

One of the three (3) members of the MDT must always be a medical clinician (i.e., a General Practitioner (GP) or Geriatrician) so as to ensure that any underlying clinical issues are identified. The medical clinician along with the other two members will assist the assessment by working with clients to identify goals and plan therapies/services to meet those goals.

The number and type of specialists involved in a client’s treatment during the service delivery phase should be determined by the level of care needed, type of outcome required, and client preferences. Having multidisciplinary care at the centre of STRC allows clients to receive comprehensive and unified treatment that supports undertaking the activities of daily living.

Attachment C provides examples of possible clinicians/qualified professionals who should be considered when developing the MDT.
What is Multidisciplinary Care?

Multidisciplinary care is a widely referenced health practice within Ageing and Clinical Health literature. Most commonly this practice of care involves health care providers working in collaboration to provide a positive patient outcome, through a holistic and high quality care plan. The Department’s preferred definition defines multidisciplinary care as “a collaborative process among groups or individuals with different backgrounds”. Multidisciplinary care teams could therefore be made up of GPs, allied health professionals, social workers, community health workers or a range of other specialists. The number and types of disciplines drawn upon should reflect the client’s needs and be able to contribute to the overarching treatment goal. Research highlights the importance of multidisciplinary care to be driven by evidence based practice and an overarching goal. Multidisciplinary care teams are expected to meet and discuss client outcomes and services regularly in order for the best level of care to be provided.

The benefits of Multidisciplinary Care

There are many noted benefits of multidisciplinary care within clinical health literature. Most notably collaborative care has been linked with a higher level of client care and better patient outcomes. This is because multidisciplinary care centres focus upon the welfare of the client and empowers them “through offering choices and better information”. Multidisciplinary care also reduces the risk of the client receiving fragmented, contradicting or poor quality care. Health care workers and service providers may also benefit from multidisciplinary care, as collaborative work can broaden an individual’s knowledge, skills and networks, all of which can have beneficial impact on clients’ care.

Seamless multidisciplinary care is to be supported by an integrated system of care with other organisations through:

- the establishment of relationships and communication strategies that govern collaboration between aged and primary care services, promoting a clear understanding of each other’s roles, responsibilities and admission criteria
- the establishment of systems for the secure, timely and effective transfer of STRC recipient information between service providers
- strengthening of partnerships with GPs and other STRC support services
- facilitation of effective case conferences
- facilitation of the client’s entry to and exit from STRC so that the client has a seamless experience
- effective coordination of the client’s needs and goals between services
- keeping the client and/or their representative well informed prior to moving between care settings (where applicable)
- the facilitation of education, training, networking and support across sectors and service boundaries in the broader health and aged care community where appropriate
- the facilitation of access to ongoing care and service provision through to the My Aged Care Gateway post-STRC should this be required.

STRC services must have documented procedures and protocols available to support the MDT in the care and review of clients. This is to include:

- the processes for communicating client information to relevant health professionals;
- all care plan reviews / case conferencing to include those members of the MDT involved in the client’s treatment and occur either as required or at predetermined intervals;
- ensuring MDTs have integrated client records;
- the MDT comprises an appropriate mix and level of staff, enabling the provision of effective client services; and
- a coordinator / case manager is in place to oversee and promote effective MDT and inter-agency working.

3.6 Care coordination

Effective coordinated service delivery is critical to the success of each STRC episode. Throughout each STRC episode, care plan reviews, case conferencing and processes for communicating client information must be facilitated. Prior to exit, access to ongoing care, service delivery or assessment must be arranged where appropriate.

3.7 Duration of care / breaks in care

The duration of each STRC episode is limited to a maximum of eight weeks (56 days). No extensions will be granted beyond this eight week period.

STRC clients may take up to seven days unpaid leave from the programme. For example, a client may require leave to travel interstate for an event. This seven days leave is not counted towards the maximum 56 paid days of care that may be received. Clients could therefore receive STRC over a period of 63 days (56 days of care + 7 days of leave). STRC clients cannot be charged daily care fees during a period of leave. The Flexible Care Agreement must set out any other fees that may be applicable during a period of leave (e.g., specified care and services provided under Schedule 5 of the Quality of Care Principles 2014 (https://www.legislation.gov.au/Latest/F2016C00451)).

It is expected that clients be able to benefit from any additional fees and charges incurred during periods of leave. For example, if the STRC client requires the use of a wheelchair, this fee could still be incurred whilst on leave. However, if the STRC client has agreed to pay additional fees for food or drinks, such as a glass of wine with dinner, the STRC client cannot be charged for this while on leave.

In some circumstances, leave will not be required. For example, if a hospital admission for a day procedure or if an overnight stay is required, the service provider must provide STRC up to the point of admission and then again from the point of discharge on the same day or the next day. There is therefore no break in the service episode and the approved provider’s subsidy for the episode of care continues.

An STRC recipient can suspend their STRC episode (take leave) for up to seven days in total if, on that day or those days, the care recipient will be absent overnight from the setting where the STRC is being provided. They can do so for any reason without impacting their existing approval to receive STRC. For care to be suspended, the care recipient must ask for it to be suspended. STRC providers must grant requests for care to be suspended. If the provision of STRC is suspended for more than a total of seven days, the care recipient’s STRC episode (and approval to receive STRC) will end.

While some clients may require the maximum eight weeks of care, other clients may be able to complete the programme in less time. Where the client achieves the goals set out in their Flexible Care Agreement in less than the eight week term, their approval for the current instance of STRC will cease at the departure date agreed between the approved provider and client (and/or the client’s representative).
Care recipient leave examples

If a STRC recipient were to be admitted to hospital for up to 7 days (not related to the condition that resulted in the referral to STRC) – can they continue to access STRC post discharge?

Yes, they can continue to receive STRC.

If a STRC recipient were to be admitted to hospital for up to 7 days (related to the condition that resulted in the referral to STRC) – can they continue to access STRC post discharge?

Yes, they can still continue to receive STRC.

If a STRC recipient were to be admitted to hospital for more than 7 days (related OR not related to the condition that resulted in the referral to STRC) – they can no longer access the STRC post discharge? As they have gone beyond the 7 days?

If their care is suspended for more than seven days, they can no longer receive STRC as a part of that episode. A new episode would require another assessment against the eligibility criteria and approval.

3.8 Ongoing care / exit strategy

The approved provider, in accordance with its case coordination obligations under the Specified Care and Services for STRC Services, must provide assistance to clients in finalising and obtaining access to their longer term care arrangements.

The STRC service provider must have systems in place to support the STRC recipient in the event the recipient requires ongoing care upon exit from their STRC episode. The service must therefore prepare an exit strategy that:

- Provides the client with a copy of the care plan outcomes for inclusion in any future reassessment;
- Provides appropriate STRC episode documentation to the client, specifying:
  - the length of stay in the STRC episode;
  - details of any assessment (RAS or ACAT) or referral arranged for the care recipient;
  - the goals which the client agrees have been achieved or not achieved (with reasons for non-achievement);
  - the client’s functional levels on entry and discharge from STRC, as assessed using the MBI assessment process;
  - client and/or representative, carer and family education and support to improve functioning following cessation;
  - where appropriate all services and equipment to be provided to the care recipient on cessation of STRC episode, with key supplier contact details;
  - an up-to-date list of prescribed medications; and
  - a finalised financial statement, including the costs of services (including administrative costs) received by the client.
- Includes working with the client to facilitate appropriate supports; and
- Includes referring the client back to My Aged Care for an ACAT or RAS for assessment and facilitating services available to them during any wait for ACAT / RAS assessment.

The exit strategy must be prepared in advance of the episode ending. It must cover the service arrangements that are recommended to be in place for the care recipient following the STRC episode.
Where the client will be returning to a carer, the carer must be briefed on the exit strategy. The care recipient’s consent must also be sought for the exit strategy.

3.8.1 Pre-entry leave for residential aged care

Pre-entry leave (section 42-3(3) of the Act) cannot be claimed with respect of persons currently receiving STRC.

3.8.2 Accessing a Home Care Package (HCP)

A person cannot receive STRC if they are also receiving a (HCP) (home care under the Act). For clients who have not yet met their physical and cognitive goals but wish to end their STRC episode early in order to accept a HCP, or residential care place, their ongoing care plan should include strategies to help the client and their carer or family to meet their goals after exit from the programme.

3.9 Rights and responsibilities

3.9.1 Clients’ and provider rights and responsibilities

Approved providers and care recipients are required to adhere to either the home care or residential care part of the Charter, depending on the setting in which care is being delivered.

The rights and responsibilities of each party must be clearly articulated in each Flexible Care Agreement. The agreement must be consistent with the Act and its principles.

3.9.2 Advocacy

The Specified Care and Service for STRC services (reproduced in Chapter 6) provides for the client to have access to an advocate.

Approved providers must present information to clients on the role of advocates.

Service providers are required under the Act and its principles to accept the client’s choice of advocate.

A client has the right to call on an advocate of their choice to represent them as required in the management of their care, including establishing or reviewing their Flexible Care Agreement and/or their care plan, negotiating the fees they may be asked to pay, and in presenting any complaints they may have.

A carer can advocate on behalf of a client directly with a provider. If they are dissatisfied with the provider’s response they can speak to someone about this. The provider should direct them to the National Aged Care Advocacy Program (NACAP).

The NACAP is funded by the Australian Government under the Act. It provides free, independent and confidential advocacy support and information to older people (and their representatives) receiving, or seeking to receive, Australian Government funded aged care services. STRC clients are eligible for assistance through the NACAP.
More information about NACAP can be found on:

- the My Aged Care website (http://www.myagedcare.gov.au/how-make-complaint/advocacy-services), and

3.9.3 Privacy / confidentiality

The Australian Government, approved providers and members of the multidisciplinary team (engaged by the approved providers), can only use personal information concerning a client:

- for a purpose connected with the provision of STRC to the client; or
- for a purpose for which the personal information is given by the client.

It is the responsibility of each approved provider to ensure that members of the multidisciplinary team protect the privacy of the client and comply with all applicable laws relating to the use of personal information.

Approved providers must implement security safeguards to protect personal information relating to clients against loss or misuse (section 62-1(c) of the Act).

Service providers should also determine how they meet the Australian Privacy Principles in the Privacy Act 1988 and/or similar obligations contained in state or territory privacy laws.

3.9.4 Use of protected information

Approved providers must familiarise themselves and their staff with Part 6.2 of the Act, which relates to the protection of information, including the use and disclosure of protected information. Protected information is defined under section 86-1 of the Act as information that was acquired under or for the purposes of the Act; and:

- is personal information (as defined in the Privacy Act 1988);
- relates to the affairs of an approved provider;
- relates to the affairs of an applicant for approval under Part 2.1 of the Act; or
- relates to the affairs of an applicant for a grant under Chapter 5 of the Act.

Any unauthorised release or misuse of protected information can result in a breach of the Act with personal penalties of up to two years imprisonment.
3.10 Care fees

Subject to certain conditions, the approved provider may charge client fees for STRC.

3.10.1 Determining care fees

The care fees that a recipient must pay are to be agreed upon in the Flexible Care Agreement, at 3.3 above. The process of agreeing to care fees should be as simple and unobtrusive as possible, respecting the client’s right to privacy and confidentiality.

3.10.2 Maximum amount that may be charged for care and services

The care fee that clients may be charged for STRC is calculated on a daily basis for every day the client receives care.

For STRC delivered in a residential care setting, the maximum value of the care fee is 85% of the basic daily rate of the single basic age pension.

For STRC delivered in the home, the maximum care fee is 17.5% of the basic daily rate of the single basic age pension.

The above rules on maximum fees apply to both single and married clients.

If a client transitions between residential and home care settings, the maximum care fee charged is determined by where they will stay overnight. For example, if they will sleep in a residential facility, the maximum is 85% that day. If they will sleep in a home care setting, it is 17.5%.

When new pension rates are announced (which is generally in March and September), the Department of Health will notify the approved providers of any variations in the rate of the maximum care fees for STRC. Approved providers may want to initiate negotiations (bearing in mind that fees cannot go above their respective caps) with clients following these variations. Approved providers should familiarise themselves with the pension rates, which are available at the DHS website https://www.humanservices.gov.au/customer/services/centrelink/age-pension.

3.10.3 Affordability of care

Approved providers must not refuse to provide STRC to a person because of the person’s inability to pay fees.

Where a client states that they cannot afford fees and provides reasonable evidence of this, the approved provider must waive the client fee.

To ascertain a client’s ability to make a contribution to the cost of their STRC, the service provider may only make a request for information that is reasonable under the circumstances.

In determining a client’s capacity to pay fees, the service provider should take into account any exceptional and unavoidable expenses incurred by the client, such as high pharmaceutical bills.

Clients must not be asked to pay fees that cover a period of leave. A detailed classification of leave can be found under section 3.7.

Fees may be waived during the STRC episode should the client’s financial circumstances change.

3.10.4 Refundable Accommodation Deposits (RADs) and Daily Accommodation Payments (DAPs)

The approved provider, or the approved provider’s nominee, must not seek or accept from a client, or a prospective client, a refundable accommodation deposit or daily accommodation payment, or any other form of financial benefit other than that described in this section, in relation to STRC.

Note: The approved provider’s nominee may be an organisation.
3.10.5 Payment of fees in advance

Service providers may ask for fees up to one week in advance. If a client leaves the programme or care ceases for any reason, any payment in advance beyond the date of cessation must be refunded to the client as soon as possible.

As the STRC Programme is focused on delivering care and services, care fees received in advance must only be used to benefit the paying client. Unused fees must be refunded to the client or their estate.

Approved providers must not require a client to pay fees for any period prior to the time when the approved provider commenced provision of STRC.

Note: Where a client’s fees will be paid for by the Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA) (see 3.10.6 below), the approved provider may not ask for payment of fees in advance.

3.10.6 Care fees for DVA Clients and Veterans

Former prisoners of war (POW) and Victoria Cross (VC) recipients receiving STRC may be asked to pay a fee. However, DVA will pay the daily care fee component on their behalf.

All other members of the veteran community may be asked to pay a fee towards the cost of their care.

Where an approved provider is delivering STRC to a veteran, the approved provider must inform the client that any former POW and VC recipients will have any fees associated with the care delivery paid by DVA.

Where a client identifies as a POW or VC recipient, the approved provider must contact DVA on 133 254 or at HCS.Community.Programmes@dva.gov.au to arrange for the payment of care fees to be made.

3.11 Complaints

Service providers must ensure clients are fully informed of the mechanisms available for making a complaint. This includes informing clients (or their representatives) via the Flexible Care Agreement, of internal and external mechanisms for addressing complaints made by, or on behalf of, the client.

It is a condition of allocation that providers of the STRC Programme must allow the Complaints Commissioner to manage complaints about their services (which may include access in order to assess and report to the Department) where the Complaints Commissioner deems it necessary to discharge their functions.

3.11.1 Internal complaints processes

If clients have concerns with regard to the provision of their STRC episode, they should be encouraged to approach the service provider in the first instance. In most cases the service provider is best placed to resolve complaints and alleviate concerns of clients. Service providers must handle any complaints fairly, promptly, confidentially and without retribution.

Complaints should be used positively to monitor and improve the quality of services provided by the service provider. Actively encouraging clients to provide feedback, both positive and negative, and duly considering this feedback will improve services and provide continuous improvement.

3.11.2 External complaints

To cater for situations where the client, their carer or family representative is uncomfortable making a complaint direct to the approved provider, the approved provider must inform them – before care delivery commences – that complaints can be lodged with the independent Complaints Commissioner. This is a free service and available by contacting the Complaints Commissioner via:

- Online – make your complaint online to the Complaints Commissioner (https://www.agedcarecomplaints.gov.au/)

27
3.12 Quality of care

Part 4 of the Act and the Quality of Care Principles 2014 outline the responsibilities of approved providers (and their service providers) in relation to the quality of the care provided to STRC recipients.

STRC providers are required to comply with the Flexible Care Standards (Part 4 Division 2 of the Quality of Care Principles 2014) made under section 54-5 of the Act that apply to STRC.

The standards that apply to STRC are drawn from the current quality standards that exist in relation to residential care and home care.

- if the STRC is delivered in a residential care setting, providers are required to meet the Accreditation Standards set out in Schedule 2 to the Quality of Care Principles 2014
- if the STRC is delivered in a home care setting, providers are required to meet the Home Care Standards set out in Schedule 4 to the Quality of Care Principles 2014.

The Quality Agency will monitor service delivery in accordance with the processes that currently exist for monitoring home care services and residential care services.

Importantly, there are no additional accreditations or quality review requirements in those instances where the provider is an approved provider of STRC and also an approved provider for residential care or home care.

Consistent with compliance activity for other types of aged care under the Act, compliance action may be taken against approved providers who do not meet their responsibilities.

3.12.1 External accreditation

Where an STRC provider’s service meets the criteria in the Quality Agency Principles 2013 (reproduced below), it will be considered an externally accredited service. These services are operated by providers new to the aged care system, and currently accredited under another quality standard (issued by a government body or a non-government body approved by the department for this purpose). Such a service is not required to:

- be accredited by the Quality Agency if providing services in a residential care setting; or
- undertake quality reviews by the Quality Agency if providing services in a home care setting.

An example of this would be a private health service that is accredited under the National Safety and Quality Health Service Standards that has become an approved provider of flexible care and received an allocation of STRC places.

Whilst externally accredited services are not subject to the need to be accredited by the Quality Agency, or to undergo a quality review, they are still required to deliver STRC in accordance with the flexible care standards made under section 54-5 of the Act that apply to STRC, as outlined in section 3.12 above. All providers of the STRC Programme must allow the Quality Agency access to their services, including externally accredited services, to monitor the quality of the service.
Quality Agency Principles 2013 - Meaning of externally accredited services

A flexible care service through which short-term restorative care is provided is an externally accredited service if:

(a) an approved provider has been allocated flexible care places, under Division 14 of the Aged Care Act, for the flexible care service; and

(b) short-term restorative care has not previously been provided for those places through the service; and

(c) the service is not, and is not taken to be, an accredited service or a previously accredited service; and

(d) either:

   (i) the approved provider holds a current accreditation issued by a government body (other than the Quality Agency); or

   (ii) the approved provider holds a current accreditation issued by a non-government body and the Secretary has notified the approved provider, in writing, that the non-government body is approved for the purposes of this subparagraph.

3.12.2 People with special needs

Approved providers must manage the delivery of STRC to ensure that people with special needs as defined in section 11-3 of the Act are equitably represented in the target population of the programme. Section 11-3 defines people with special needs as:

- people from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities;
- people who live in rural or remote areas;
- people who are financially or socially disadvantaged;
- veterans;
- people who are homeless or at risk of becoming homeless;
- care-leavers;
- parents separated from their children by forced adoption or removal;
- lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and intersex people; and
- people of a kind (if any) specified in the Allocation Principles 2014.

3.12.3 Older people with dementia

Each person’s experience with dementia is unique and some older people with dementia may benefit from tailored care following a setback or functional decline. Older people with dementia who are assessed by the ACAT as able to benefit from the therapies and support provided by the programme are eligible to participate in it. For older people with dementia who are unable to express their care goals, the development of care goals should involve the person’s family, carer and/or representative.
3.13 Functional review at entry to and exit from STRC

STRC services must use the MBI 0–100 point system to assess clients at entry to, and exit from, an STRC episode. A better practice approach is to have the same person conduct an MBI on a client’s entry to, and exit from, the programme. While it is acknowledged that this may not be possible in every case, staff availability and staff competency are matters for providers to manage as part of the care coordination component of STRC.

An MBI template is available at Attachment D.

As a part of the process for claiming the STRC subsidy, STRC providers must provide the entry and exit functional capacity scores of each client. This scoring will be on the Claim for Subsidy form and must be completed in order for the subsidy to be claimed and payment to be made. An increase in functional capability would point to goals being met. While it would be preferable for the MBI assessment to be delivered by a health professional, there is no requirement for it to be delivered by someone with a specific qualification.

In using the MBI it is noted that i. When cognition impairment (e.g., memory, language, calculation) is becoming more severe, the functional performance of patients will be also affected. Thus, the assessment of function is an essential aspect of an assessment for dementia.

ii. The index is useful in not only revealing the present disability of the patient but also estimating the capability of extension as well as determining when a patient will begin to need help.

iii. Barthel Index should be applied periodically to monitor the disease progression and also revise the treatment plan. It aims to measure the degree of independence from any help, physical or verbal, however minor and for whatever reason.

It is important to note that funding will not be withheld should a client fail to meet their goals.

The Modified Barthel Index (MBI)

The MBI is a tool used to measure personal functioning, or the ability to perform certain self-care tasks. Specifically, the MBI measures how much help a person needs with personal hygiene, bathing, feeding, using the toilet, stair climbing, bowel control, bladder control, ambulation or the ability to move about (for those not in a wheelchair), wheelchair use for those trained in using one, and chair / bed transfers. The MBI score is measured at the start and end of the STRC Programme care.

Scoring

For each of the elements mentioned above, there are five associated questions, which are ranked on a numerical scale. This scale ranges from 0 to 5, 10 or 15, depending on the element, with 0 being ‘unable to perform the task’, through to 5, 10 or 15 being ‘fully independent’. The scores for these elements are then added to obtain a total score. The total MBI scores are out of 100 and for STRC this overall score is related to level of dependency and hours of help required per week. Lower scores relate to greater levels of dependency and hours of help and higher scores relate to lower dependency levels and hours of help.

When a STRC recipient dies or is admitted to hospital, the MBI score at the end of the episode is recorded as zero.

3.14 Care delivery when client changes location

The conditions of allocation attached to STRC services enable the delivery of care anywhere within the specified state / territory. However, priority must be given to persons in the region targeted by the service in its application for places.

If the client relocates during the care period and:

1. The client moves to a location where the same approved provider is also able to operate effectively (noting that providers will not always have appropriate linkages in all areas of the state / territory) the provider may continue to deliver care to the client.

2. The client moves to a location where their approved provider cannot deliver effectively, but a different approved provider does operate an STRC service, then the original approved provider, where reasonable, should negotiate a sub-contracting arrangement with the receiving approved provider in order to complete the client’s episode of care.

3. The client moves to a location where there is no approved provider capable of delivering STRC, the exit strategy outlined in section 3.8 (ongoing care) should be implemented. This exit strategy should have covered the service arrangements that are expected to be in place for the care recipient following STRC, a carer briefing, and the care recipient’s consent for the exit strategy.
3.15 Accountability

Division 63 of the Aged Care Act 1997, the Approved Provider Principles 2014 and Accountability Principles 2014

STRC approved providers must adhere to the accountability requirements of the legislation. For example, providers are to maintain and retain records relating to the service and comply with any conditions of allocation to which the places included in the service are subject. The legislation requires that all staff and volunteers have a current police certificate. \(^{34}\)

3.16 Record keeping

Divisions 88 to 89 of the Aged Care Act 1997 cover the types of records approved providers and service providers are required to keep in relation to the administration of the service and with regard to clients. It also covers the issue of false and misleading records and the penalties that may apply.

The Records Principles 2014 focuses on records relating to clients. Approved providers should also ensure that service providers maintain the health records of individual clients in accordance with the local state or territory legislation and policy guidelines, as appropriate.

3.17 Participation in programme reviews

Approved providers must participate in any monitoring and evaluation programmes undertaken by the Department of Health including the provision of de-identified client data upon request by the department or its representative/s.

STRC providers must participate in any programme reviews, assessments, or evaluation, including participation in surveys, census taking and in any on-going provision of care recipient and service data.

The department will work collaboratively with the approved provider, as part of a national approach to developing mutually agreed strategies for any review, assessment or evaluation of the STRC Programme.

3.18 Insurance

Approved providers must ensure that they and their service providers maintain appropriate insurance while providing STRC. Service providers should be aware of any relevant state or territory legislation regarding insurance requirements and standards that may affect the delivery of STRC services.

\(^{34}\) Accountability Principles 2014, Part 6.
CHAPTER 4 – CLIENT ENTRY INTO STRC

4.1 Approval and referral process

As required under the Approval of Care Recipients Principles 2014, to be eligible for STRC a person must first be approved by an ACAT delegate as requiring STRC. People can access an ACAT assessment through contacting the My Aged Care contact centre on 1800 200 422 or by submitting a web form referral through the My Aged Care website (http://www.myagedcare.gov.au/). A My Aged Care RAS home support assessor is able to refer suitable clients who are identified as requiring a comprehensive assessment to the ACAT, through the My Aged Care system. The My Aged Care website has a specially designed referral web form that health professionals may use to refer their clients to My Aged Care.

STRC providers will need to be set up in My Aged Care to access the provider portal, manage referrals and view the client record including assessment and approval information. The approved provider should ensure all service availability and waitlist information is up to date in the provider portal so the ACAT can make appropriate referrals on the My Aged Care system. Further information and resources are available on the department’s website (https://agedcare.health.gov.au/programs/my-aged-care). You can also get system support from the My Aged Care assessor and provider helpline on 1800 836 799.

Based on the early intervention nature of STRC, the majority of STRC clients would be expected to fall under Priority Category 2 of the Aged Care Assessment Programme Guidelines May 2015 which is defined as:

[Where care is required an ACAT assessment should be undertaken within] ‘... 3 and 14 days: [this priority category] should be used when information available at referral indicates that the client is not at immediate risk of harm. Referrals that indicate progressive deterioration in the client’s physical, mental or functioning status, or that the level of care currently available to the client does not meet their needs or is not sustainable in the long-term, should be allocated to this priority category’.

As with all ACAT assessments, where appropriate, and with the client’s permission, the assessment should involve:

- the client and their carer, family or representative;
- an interpreter or an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander health worker or liaison officer as required, in accordance with the individual’s preferences; and
- other health and rehabilitation professionals, as appropriate (e.g. existing DVA service providers if identified as a DVA client).

As with all ACAT approvals, clients should be reminded that approval as a client does not guarantee a place, particularly if a vacancy does not present itself within the entry period.

4.1.2 Lapsing of approval to access STRC

An ACAT approval to enter STRC is valid on the date the ACAT delegate signs the approval, and for six months and 1 day after the date of signing. To receive STRC, the person must enter STRC within this six month ‘entry period’. If the person does not enter the programme within the entry period, their approval will lapse and they will need a re-assessment and another approval for STRC, if appropriate.

The examples below illustrate how the six month entry period is calculated.

Example 1; If approval is given on 14 December, the six month entry period starts on 14 December and ends on 15 June in the next year.
Example 2; If approval is given on 30 October, the six month entry period starts on 30 October and ends at the end of April in the next year (because April is the calendar month coming sixth after October and does not have 31 days).

Note: There is no process for reassessment envisaged as the ACAT should have taken into account a client’s condition as part of their assessment. The client is usually offered a choice of providers and has the choice to make contact or not.

4.1.3 Accepting and rejecting care

A person who is approved to receive STRC by an ACAT delegate is not obliged to receive STRC. An STRC service is not obliged to provide STRC to a potential care recipient. The decision to accept or reject a referral is a business decision for the STRC provider.

However, STRC providers must give priority of access to persons in the region(s) specified in the conditions of allocation linked to their STRC places.

4.1.4 Termination of care

The Flexible Care Agreement must set out conditions under which either party may terminate the provision of STRC.

An episode of STRC can only be terminated unilaterally in accordance with the conditions in the Flexible Care Agreement.

4.2 Client journey

The following diagram details how a potential STRC client would move through the process of assessment to access STRC, and how they may be referred to different aged care programmes.
Short-Term Restorative Care

Client Journey

1. Entry
   - Client requires assistance
   - Registration and screening
   - Comprehensive Assessment by ACAT Assessor
   - Second pass screening and referral for assessment (Regional Assessment Service or ACAT)
   - Provider facilitates exit strategy (including appropriate referral to My Aged Care)

2. Eligibility
   - Support Plan created by Assessor
   - Delegate approves Short Term Restorative Care (STRC)
   - Client referred for short-term restorative care (including interim CHSP service)

3. Referral
   - Client receives interim support (e.g., CHSP)

4. Service Delivery (Up to Eight Weeks)
   - Final services provided. Exit MBI assessment.
   - Does the client require leave?
   - Is client eligible for STRC?
   - Flexible Care Agreement with client (including MBI assessment and interim care plan)
   - Provider to contact DVA to arrange for daily care fees to be claimed via DVA

5. Optional Leave / Service Suspension
   - Service suspension (up to seven days)
   - Client notifies provider that leave is required

6. Multidisciplinary Team
   - Ongoing eligibility
     - A client's approval to receive STRC lasts six months.
     - A client cannot receive STRC if they are receiving or have left from a Home Care Package, Residential Care (including respite), or another form of Flexible Care.
     - STRC can be received together with CHSP services (e.g., if the service is different but complementary).
   - Flexible Care Agreement includes interim care plan and agreement to client contribution to care cost (daily care fee). Preparation includes carrying out MBI assessment.
   - DVA Payments
     - Where a client identifies as a veteran, the approved provider must contact DVA before negotiating client contributions, as DVA will pay the daily care fees for former POWs or VC recipients.

Notes

1. Carers and Informal Supports
   - Clients may be supported by carers or informal supports.
2. Entry
   - Clients may contact My Aged Care themselves, or be registered by someone else (e.g., their carer, or general practitioner).
3. Eligibility
   - ACATs will comprehensively assess a client’s eligibility for aged care. The proposed Support Plan may include any care type a person is eligible for (e.g., STRC together with a level 2 Home Care Package).
4. Referral
   - The AGAT’s role continues to the point of effective referral. Where STRC is not immediately available, referrals to suitable interim supports (e.g., CHSP or residential respite) must be made.
5. Multidisciplinary Team
   - Care planning and service delivery must be carried out using a multidisciplinary team, with three members at least one of which must be a medical practitioner.
6. Leave / Service Suspension
   - If leave is to be taken, the approved provider must be notified. Leave days do not need to be consecutive, but only a total of seven days may be taken.
7. Exit Strategy
   - The approved provider must prepare an exit strategy for the client. Where ongoing care is required, appropriate facilitation of care / services must be undertaken.
4.3 Client eligibility for STRC

To determine whether a person is eligible for STRC, the person must be assessed by an ACAT. In assessing a person’s eligibility for STRC, the ACAT must use the eligibility criteria listed at section 4.3.1. The ACAT delegate will only approve a person if the person meets the eligibility criteria for STRC.

4.3.1 Eligibility under the Act

Section 21-4(c) of the Act and section 8A of the Approval of Care Recipients Principles 2014 (https://www.legislation.gov.au/Latest/F2016C00452) set out the eligibility criteria a person needs to be eligible to receive flexible care in the form of STRC. To receive STRC an individual must be:

- experiencing functional decline (see section 2.2.1) that is likely to be reversed or slowed through short term restorative care;
- at risk of losing independence to such a degree that, without STRC, it is likely that the person will require home care, residential care or flexible care provided through a multi-purpose service.

And:

- not currently be receiving (or on leave from) residential care, home care through a Commonwealth HCP or transition care;
- would not be assessed as eligible to receive transition care if the person applied for it;
- not, at any time during the six months before the date of assessment, received flexible care in the form of transition care;
- not, at any time during the three months before the date of assessment, been hospitalised for a condition related to the functional decline which would be the focus of that episode of STRC;
- not receiving end of life care; and
- in receiving the proposed episode, the person will have received less than two episodes of short term restorative care in any 12 month period.

4.3.2 STRC client scenarios

The following tables provide STRC client scenarios. Each scenario provides:

- an overview of each hypothetical individual’s functional decline that could be reversed or slowed through STRC;
- their personal situation;
- potential questions that could be asked by ACATs during the assessment process to determine the individual’s suitability;
- potential services to be delivered under STRC; and
- the expected outcome once the individual receives STRC.
CLIENT A - LOUISE

Louise and Phillip benefit from residential and home based services provided through the STRC Programme.

Client Situation:

Louise is 81, and her husband Phillip is 79. They have been married for 48 years. Louise has dementia and requires Phillip’s constant supervision. She is mobile and can care for herself, if Phillip prompts her. Phillip is happy with his caring role, as it means they can stay together at home.

Phillip has Type 2 Diabetes and worsening Parkinson’s disease, which is beginning to limit his physical capacity.

Louise was recently unwell with the flu and fell in the bathroom breaking her coccyx. Her general practitioner discussed with Phillip whether Louise should be admitted to hospital. Phillip didn’t believe hospital could assist her other than administer pain killers which her general practitioner would be able to prescribe.

Louise received some support via the CHSP, but became weaker, confined to bed, and was starting to struggle to walk. Provision of housework, showering assistance, and meals reduced the impact on Phillip, but Louise’s functional capacity was dropping before his eyes.

Phillip called My Aged Care as he could no longer care for Louise at home.

Louise and Phillip’s Goals:

Louise to live at home and Phillip to continue to care for her.

Referral / Aged Care Assessment Team Assessment / Outcomes

- Louise referred to My Aged Care by Phillip;
- My Aged Care referred Louise for a comprehensive assessment;
- The Aged Care Assessment Team deemed Louise eligible for STRC. A place was available in her region, and she was referred to an STRC provider;
- The STRC provider accepted the referral, reviewed Louise’s assessment and support plan, and arranged to meet with Louise;
- At the meeting, the provider and Louise discussed her needs and the care / services that could be offered through STRC. As a part of this process, the provider conducted and recorded an MBI assessment. Phillip attended this meeting with Louise;
- Louise, Phillip and the provider all agreed that her needs would best be met by a short stay in a residential care facility. Together, they drafted an interim care plan (on the understanding that this would be revised / finalised with the multidisciplinary team), and Louise was offered a Flexible Care Agreement attaching this interim care plan;
- Following this, the provider established a multidisciplinary team based upon Louise’s needs and preferred care / service options, including Louise’s general practitioner;
The multidisciplinary team, together with the provider, Phillip and Louise, refined the care plan and agreed on the detailed arrangements for the care episode; Phillip stressed that he wished to resume his caring role following Louise’s care episode.

Assessment Outcome/s:
- Louise was assessed as eligible for STRC and residential respite;
- Louise was referred to a STRC provider; and
- Phillip stayed at home and received CHSP housework and meal services.

Possible Multidisciplinary Care Team response to the care recipient’s needs identified in the care plan / Short-Term Restorative Care outcomes:
- Treating general practitioner – role included pain management and assessment of possible osteoporosis;
- Physiotherapist;
- Occupational therapist – Assessment of the home;
- Dietitian – dietary advice;
- Exercise Physiologist - one-on-one and group exercise sessions to improve Louise’s strength and balance;
- Louise was admitted to a residential care facility at which time she:
  - participated in a daily programme to improve her strength and endurance; and
  - ate healthy food.
- Equipment (wheeled walking frame) was provided for Louise’s use in residential care and at home she was provided with rails in the bathroom in line with occupational therapist’s assessment;
- After four weeks Louise returned home with the walking frame where her care plan services continued for a further four weeks;
- Phillip also benefited from aspects of Louise’s care plan i.e.:
  - education and referral to advisory, carer and support services for dementia;
  - assistance with setting up the home in a way that would support them both;
  - participation in the group exercise sessions with Louise; and
  - participation in consultation with Louise’s dietitian to support healthier eating habits at home.
- At the six week point of the programme, Louise had progressed and was able to walk around without her frame;
- Phillip continued to receive the previously provided CHSP housework service while Louise was in residential care.
Short-Term Restorative Care Episode Outcome/s:

- Louise ceased STRC at 8 weeks and was back ‘to her old self’;
- Louise and Phillip continued with the exercises they learnt in the group sessions;
- Phillip was stronger and more confident in caring for his wife and was thankful for the rails installed in the bathroom; and
- Phillip and Louise were advised of local respite care services, noting that Louise had been assessed as eligible for this service.

CLIENT B – MYRTLE

Myrtle lives alone and has no carer. Her GP referred her for an assessment via My Aged Care and Myrtle successfully completed STRC earlier than planned.

Client Situation: Myrtle is 85 years old, lives alone and has a history of falls. She has house cleaning funded through the CHSP.

Myrtle is desperate to stay home and look after her garden. She has not been able to garden recently due to progressive weakness, poor balance, low energy levels, and unintended weight gain.

Myrtle:

- Has Type 2 diabetes;
- Had a heart attack eight years ago; and
- Has begun to stay indoors watching television.

Myrtle’s Goals: Myrtle wishes to stay at home, continue to work in her garden and go to her local shops.

Referral / Aged Care Assessment Team Assessment / Outcomes:

- Myrtle’s general practitioner assessed her thoroughly to determine the cause of her physical deterioration;
- The general practitioner determined that Myrtle had frailty syndrome, and was putting on weight because she was not exercising or cooking, and ate mainly cake and biscuits;
- Myrtle’s GP contacted My Aged Care on Myrtle’s behalf. Myrtle was referred to and attended a comprehensive assessment;
- The Aged Care Assessment Team approved Myrtle as eligible for a level 2 HCP and STRC;
- A STRC place was available, Myrtle was referred to the provider, and the provider accepted this referral;
- The STRC provider assessed Myrtle at home in consultation with her general practitioner.
Assessment Outcome/s:
Myrtle was committed to achieving her goals and agreed to proceed with STRC at home.

Possible Multidisciplinary Care Team response to the care recipient’s needs identified in the care plan / Short-Term Restorative Care outcomes:

- Treating general practitioner ruled out other serious causes of Myrtle’s deterioration and adjusted medication to improve her diabetes control;
- Physiotherapist assessed Myrtle as being deconditioned and with poor balance – one-on-one sessions were provided;
- Exercise physiologist – provided one-on-one and group exercise sessions to improve her strength and balance;
- Occupational therapist – assisted Myrtle in developing strategies to regain independence in daily living tasks, and arranged for hand rails to be installed for the steps to her garden and in other risky areas of her house, such as her bathroom. The occupational therapist also arranged for a personal alarm system in case Myrtle fell and could not get up;
- CHSP – continued with home cleaning and started to provide meals at home; and
- A dietitian – helped Myrtle improve her diet and food intake in line with diabetic requirements.

Short-Term Restorative Care Episode Outcome/s:
Myrtle completed STRC after 6 weeks with the following outcomes:

- Felt more confident;
- Healthier diet;
- Function at home had improved – was able to move around the house and garden;
- Continued with the exercise regime at home;
- Continued with CHSP services;
- Returned to visiting her local shops regularly; and
- No need for a HCP, but was confident that she could and knew how to access one, should she need to in the future.
CLIENT C - ZORAN

Zoran lives alone in a rural area. His CHSP provider referred him to My Aged Care. He received assistance from STRC whilst waiting to see an ophthalmologist about his deteriorating eyesight.

Client Situation: Zoran is 85 and lives alone in the Riverina, NSW. Zoran’s wife died five years ago - they immigrated to Australia in 1955 from Croatia.

Zoran receives frozen meals at home via a CHSP provider. The meal deliverer recently noticed that Zoran had:

- Lost weight;
- Was less talkative and was less willing to converse in English (as he had previously taken every opportunity to do so); and
- Started to stumble.

Zoran’s Goal/s: Zoran wishes to not be so lonely and be able to easily walk around his home and environs.

Referral / Aged Care Assessment Team / Outcomes:

- The CHSP provider asked Zoran (with the aid of a translator) whether he would like to see a general practitioner, and possibly access some additional services – Zoran agreed;
- The CHSP provider contacted My Aged Care. Zoran was referred to and attended a comprehensive assessment;
- The Aged Care Assessment Team assessed Zoran as eligible for STRC. He was approved for STRC by the delegate, and referred to an STRC provider who accepted this referral;
- The STRC provider contacted Zoran to arrange a visit, at which time he was asked if he wished for an interpreter be present. Zoran agreed;
- During the visit the STRC provider ascertained that Zoran did not have a regular general practitioner, and he agreed to the provider sourcing a general practitioner;
- The STRC provider arranged for transport for Zoran to visit a general practitioner for a long consultation, at which time the following health issues were identified:
  - Lost weight – Zoran did not like the meals that were delivered to him and was therefore eating a sparse amount of food. He felt too ‘down’ to eat;
  - he did not feel like talking or socialising, due to depression; and
  - he was stumbling because he could not see well.
- The general practitioner recommended an urgent optometrist assessment which the STRC provider arranged.

Assessment Outcome/s:
Zoran agreed to access STRC at home.
Possible Multidisciplinary Care Team response to the care recipient’s needs identified in the care plan / Short-Term Restorative Care outcomes:

- Optometrist review suggested visual loss due to cataracts and possible macular degeneration. The optometrist referred Zoran to an ophthalmologist;
- Provision of visual aids such as tactile instalments in house to improve confidence and large print and audio-books were supplied;
- General practitioner prescribed anti-depressants and arranged regular review of Zoran;
- Occupational Therapist assessment - Provision of ramps and other equipment around the home;
- Dietitian – developed a diet acceptable to Zoran;
- Meal preparation advice – Zoran learnt to acquire the ingredients for, and to prepare some of his own meals to ensure that he was able to eat nutritionally complete meals.
- Social support service to attend culturally-specific men’s group or multicultural group where a specific cultural group is not available. (A member of the culturally-specific men’s group has offered to pick up and return Zoran to his home after men’s group activities.);
- Physiotherapy to identify movement issues related to his low vision;
- Exercise physiology to provide an exercise routine to maintain functionality; and
- The care planning conference was facilitated by an interpreter.

Short-Term Restorative Care Episode Outcome/s:

- After a few months Zoran had put on weight and had more energy;
- Zoran once again converses in English with CHSP staff;
- Zoran is now able to modify the meals the CHSP provider delivers to suit his palate, and is receiving housework and home maintenance; and
- Zoran has established a new network of male friends in the community.

CLIENT D: FRED AND ELLEN:

Fred, who is a veteran and a former Prisoner of War, looks after his wife, Ellen who has multiple sclerosis. Fred is struggling with his own health issues. Fred’s general practitioner refers him to My Aged Care.

Client Situation:

Fred is an 95-year-old veteran, former prisoner of war and DVA Gold Card holder, who cares for his wife, Ellen who has multiple sclerosis. Fred is becoming increasingly frail and finding it hard to look after Ellen.

The highlight of Fred’s week has been attending his local Returned Services League (RSL) club with his wife, and playing bowls. In the last few months, worsening shoulder pain has stopped him sleeping, he has become less mobile and he no longer participates in these social activities.

Fred was starting to struggle with things he’d previously found simple, such as bending to put socks on, and moving around the house, when he decided that it was time to seek help – he arranged for a general practitioner appointment, his first in a long time.

Fred and Ellen currently access the DVA Veterans’ Home Care (VHC) Program and receive:

- Domestic assistance; and
- Home and garden maintenance.

Fred and Ellen's Goals: That Fred regain sufficient strength to enable him to continue to care for Ellen, at home, for as long as possible. Ideally, Fred wants to be able to recommence his social activities.

My Aged Care / Aged Care Assessment Team / Outcomes:

- Fred’s general practitioner acknowledged his decline and his concern that he may not be able to continue to care for his wife if it continued;
- The general practitioner conducted a thorough clinical assessment of Fred;
- The general practitioner advised Fred that he may benefit from receiving STRC;
- Fred agreed to the general practitioner referring him to My Aged Care for an assessment with a view to accessing STRC;
- A comprehensive assessment was arranged, and an Aged Care Assessment Team assessor visited Fred and Ellen. Fred was approved as eligible for STRC. Fred was referred to an STRC provider, a place was available, and the provider accepted Fred’s referral;
- The STRC provider visited Fred and Ellen in their home at which time they expressed a wish to not be separated;
- The STRC provider confirmed that Fred was a veteran, and enquired as to whether or not:
  - He was a former Prisoner of War or Victoria Cross recipient. Fred informed the provider that he was a former Prisoner of War; and
  - He was in receipt of any Veteran-specific services.
- The STRC provider contacted DVA to confirm that Fred was a STRC recipient, who identified himself as a prisoner of war, to organise for a basic daily care fee payment arrangement; and
- The STRC provider also contacted Fred’s VHC provider to ensure that in receiving STRC Fred would not be receiving any duplicative services and to ensure that the care plan is coordinated and agreed between the STRC provider, Fred, and his VHC provider.

Assessment Outcome/s:

- Fred and Ellen were both glad that they will be assisted in attaining their goal of staying home together for as long as possible and that the STRC services / support would be provided in their home.
Possible Multidisciplinary Care Team response to the care recipient’s needs identified in the care plan
/ Short-Term Restorative Care outcomes:

- The treating general practitioner diagnosed generalised deconditioning, poor balance plus suspected shoulder bursitis;
- The STRC provider arranged transport for Fred to have an ultra sound guided injection of his painful shoulder;
- The physiotherapist supervised shoulder, general and balance exercises;
- The occupational therapist developed strategies to improve independence in daily living tasks, and arrange for things like hand rails and a raised toilet seat in the bathroom;
- The general practitioner recommended Fred take pain-killers at night which improved his sleep;
- The exercise physiologist provided and sourced group exercise sessions to improve Fred’s strength and balance;
- The dietitian reviewed the couple’s current diet and provided information on appropriate dietary habits for both Fred and Ellen;
- A CHSP meal service was organised to increase their intake of fresh fruit and vegetables;
- Fred was advised of and linked with carer support services; and
- The general practitioner agreed to review Fred regularly to monitor his progress and see if further assistance, such as a psychogeriatric assessment, was needed.

Short-Term Restorative Care Episode Outcome/s:

Fred was empowered to continue his caring role;

The STRC provider:

- Contacted DVA and advised that the couple are likely to require sporadic episodes of in-home respite (following agreement by Fred and Ellen) and wished to continue with the VHC domestic assistance and home and garden maintenance services;
- Advised Fred that he should contact DVA about the ongoing availability of services similar to those he received through his STRC episode;
- Arranged for a CHSP service provider to continue the meal service; and
- Reminded Fred that he was eligible to continue to access in home respite under the DVA VHC Programme.
4.3.3 Access by DVA clients

Persons in receipt of the following DVA services are able (where otherwise eligible and approved) to access STRC:

- VHC
- Community Nursing (CN)
- Rehabilitation Appliances Programme (RAP)
- Attendant care
- Household services
- Home modifications
- Counselling Services including the Veterans and Veterans Families Counselling Service (VVCS)
- Coordinated Veterans’ Care (CVC)
- Medical and Allied Health services

Note: For identified DVA clients, providers should check with the client and their nominated representative or carer, for the services the client may be accessing from DVA, and any existing care plans, in order to avoid duplication of services.

4.3.4 Access by older people who usually reside interstate

The eligibility provisions for STRC under the Act and the Transitional Provisions do not restrict provision of care based on where clients live, or where they are assessed. Older people who are not residents of a particular state, territory or region where they are currently residing can therefore access STRC services in that state, territory or region in particular circumstances. For example, a client temporarily staying with family or friends away from their usual place of residence can be provided STRC services in another location, based on their follow-up arrangements with their family, carer and/or representative. It is important that STRC commences as soon as practical.

4.3.5 Access by older people from overseas

Older people from overseas can access the programme if they are ACAT assessed and approved as eligible using the same criteria as other clients. It is important to note that people who are not permanent residents of Australia may not be eligible for Medicare and subsidised pharmaceuticals and would thus be responsible for meeting their own medical and pharmaceutical expenses while receiving STRC. However, there are several countries with which Australia has reciprocal health agreements, and people from these countries may be eligible for Medicare. Further information is available on the DHS website (https://www.humanservices.gov.au/customer/services/medicare/reciprocal-health-care-agreements).

The requirements of this manual apply to people from overseas.

4.3.6 Access by National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) participants

As STRC is a time-limited flexible care programme, an episode of STRC will not make the client ineligible to receive NDIS services. Conversely, receipt of NDIS services will not prevent an otherwise eligible person from receiving STRC services. There is an expectation in both the scheme and the STRC Programme that care be coordinated with other services.

35 In accordance with section 29 of the National Disability Insurance Scheme Act 2013, an NDIS participant will cease to be an NDIS participant if they commence receiving permanent residential or community aged care.
CHAPTER 5: FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT OF STRC PLACES

5.1 Client entry and payment of subsidy

In accordance with the Act, an approved provider is eligible for flexible care subsidy for STRC in respect of a day if the Secretary is satisfied that, during that day, the STRC service provider:

- holds an allocation of places for flexible care subsidy that is in force (under Part 2.2 of the Act (other than a provisional allocation));
- is providing care according to a care plan;
- has offered a Flexible Care Agreement to the client prior to service delivery; and
- delivered flexible care in the form of STRC, as defined under Chapter 4 of the Subsidy Principles 2014, to an approved client.

Note: An STRC service provider is not eligible for flexible care subsidy for STRC provided to a client if the client is excluded (under section 50-3 of the Act) because the STRC service provider exceeds their allocation of places for flexible care subsidy for a STRC Service (see subsection 50-1(2) of the Act).

Note: An STRC service provider is not eligible for flexible care subsidy for STRC if a restriction on the STRC service provider’s approval as a provider of aged care services removes such eligibility.

Eligibility is also affected if a client is not approved as a recipient of flexible care (see Divisions 7 and 20 of the Act).

The STRC service provider must, no later than on the twentieth day of the calendar month following the end of each payment period (a payment period being one calendar month), give to DHS:

- a claim for flexible care subsidy for STRC that is, or may become, payable in respect of the service for that payment period; and
- any information relating to the claim that is stated on the form to be required.

The claim form requires STRC providers to provide the functional capacity score of each client on entry to and on exit from the STRC service using the MBI 0-100 point system. It also replaces the need to submit Aged Care Entry Record (ACER) forms for STRC care recipients.

Claim forms are to be lodged by email to aged.care.liaison@humanservices.gov.au.

To request a claim for payment form, STRC providers may contact DHS on 1800 195 206 Monday to Friday, between 9.00 am and 5.00 pm (call charges may apply).

The Flexible Care Subsidy for STRC is payable monthly in advance and any adjustment is made to a subsequent monthly advance, for any overpayment or underpayment.

STRC service providers do not need to submit ACER forms for STRC clients.

Note: the Secretary includes the Secretary’s delegate.
An advance of flexible care subsidy for STRC is not payable in respect of a payment period (other than the first payment) if the STRC service provider has not made a claim, relating to the last preceding payment period for the service.

Note: For example, an advance for flexible care subsidy for STRC is not payable for March if DHS has not been given a claim for January of the same year.

The amount of flexible care subsidy for STRC that will be paid for the first STRC payment period will be based on the expected occupancy level for that period.

The maximum period for payment of flexible care subsidy for a specific episode of STRC (in respect of a particular approved client), is 56 days.

5.2 Use of subsidy

STRC funding must be primarily spent on care delivery. To assist with transparency, providers are required to provide the cost of services and the cost of administration in the Flexible Care Agreement, and in a financial statement provided to the care recipient at a frequency agreed upon in that agreement.

STRC funding must not be used to pay for activities that do not meet the objectives of the programme (e.g., hairdressing or entertainment services). If a client wishes to receive such services, the cost of delivering these should be met by the client.

Any part of a STRC subsidy payment that is an overpayment is a recoverable amount and a debt to the Commonwealth to be recovered in accordance with Part 6.5 of the Act. Any overpayment of subsidy should be identified on the following months claim for subsidy form.

Although the STRC service provider may arrange for other persons to provide services included in a care recipient’s care plan, the STRC service provider remains responsible at all times for ensuring that the services are provided in accordance with the Act and its principles.

5.3 Unspent Funds

As the STRC Programme provides time-limited services, there is no option for any unspent funds to be rolled over to be used at a later date or into another episode of care.

While some clients may require the maximum eight weeks of care, other clients may be able to complete the programme in less time. Care recipient care fee contributions and subsidy are only paid for days that are covered by the care plan included in the Flexible Care Agreement and it is expected that fees and subsidy will be directed towards delivering the care the client needs (including the administration costs associated with delivering this care).

5.4 Payment of medical clinicians

Whilst the services of medical clinicians are integral to the delivery of STRC, STRC funding must not be used to pay for services that may be claimed through the Medicare Benefits Schedule (http://www.mbsonline.gov.au), or pharmaceutical goods covered by the Pharmaceutical Benefits Scheme (http://www.pbs.gov.au). These aspects of the client’s care plan must be paid for by the client, with client care fees, or (where appropriate) claimed through Medicare via the MBS.
5.5 Revocation of STRC places

Approved providers must note that the Secretary of the Department of Health may revoke the allocation of a place if the approved provider to whom the place is allocated has not, for a continuous period of six months, provided care in respect of the place.

5.6 Transfers of STRC places

Aged care places can only be transferred to another organisation through the submission of a Notice to Transfer Aged Care Places form (Transfer Notice) to the department. The Transfer Notice must be complete and signed by both the transferee (the receiving organisation) and the transferor (the transferring organisation).

The department reserves the right to Veto the transfer or issue a Notice to Resolve, as occurs with Transfer of Other Aged Care Places.

The approved Transfer Notice form can be downloaded from the department’s website (https://agedcare.health.gov.au/for-providers/forms/management-of-places-forms-for-approved-providers)

5.7 Subcontracting STRC places

STRC service providers may have subcontracting / brokering arrangements in place with other organisations for the delivery of services. However, the responsibility for the delivery of services and compliance with the legislation ultimately lies with the organisation to which the places are allocated.
CHAPTER 6: SPECIFIED CARE AND SERVICES FOR STRC SERVICES

The types of care and services that can currently be included in a STRC care plan include those referred to below for delivery in both the residential and home based settings. Advice on those services/items that cannot be provided under STRC is also provided.

The required care and services are as stated in Schedule 5 of the Quality of Care Principles 2014. Where care is delivered in a residential care setting, Part 1 Divisions 1 to 3 apply. Where care is delivered in a home care setting, Part 2 Divisions 1 and 2 apply.

6.1 Care and services for STRC delivered in a residential care setting

STRC that is provided in a residential care setting must include the specified care and services listed in Part 1 of Schedule 5 of the Quality of Care Principles 2014 (https://www.legislation.gov.au/Latest/F2016C00451).

Part 1 is reproduced below for convenient reference.

| Types of reablement provided     | Multidisciplinary team care / support and services which could include GP / geriatrician and allied health professionals. Aimed at actively promoting self-management and self-sufficiency by providing interventions that support the care recipient to make the most of their own capacity and achieve their full potential. | Supports provided to the recipient in their home, could include training in a new skill, modification to a person’s home environment or having access to equipment or assistive technology. Services may include:
- in-home or community linked exercise and daily activity programme
- strategies to reduce falls
- education on the use of medication
- information to manage chronic disease, including improved ways of self-management. | Transition care provides older people, at the conclusion of a hospital episode, with a package of services that includes low intensity therapy such as physiotherapy and occupational therapy, as well as social work and nursing support or personal care. The services are designed to meet a client’s daily care needs and provide additional therapeutic care to enable the client to maintain or improve their physical, cognitive and psychosocial functioning after hospital discharge. | Any services provided through full time residential care are available in residential respite. The services can include hotel services, assistance with daily living, recreational therapy, meals and refreshments, access to treatments and assistance in obtaining further services. |
| Core Eligibility Requirements    | An elderly person who is experiencing ‘functional decline’ that is likely to be reversed and/or slowed by STRC. | A frail, older person who has difficulty performing activities of daily living without help due to functional limitations. | An elderly person, who has completed an episode of acute and/or sub-acute care, and has the capacity to benefit from additional care to complete their restorative process and optimise their physical and cognitive functional capacity. | People who meet the eligibility criteria for approval for residential care and who need respite care are eligible for approval for residential respite care. |

<td>ACAT (ACAS)</td>
<td>Aged Care Assessment Teams (ACATs) (Aged Care Assessment Service (ACAS) in Victoria) are multidisciplinary teams of health professionals who provide assessment, information, advice and assistance to frail older people to gain access to the types of services most appropriate to meet their care needs. This includes responsibility for determining eligibility for entry to Australian Government subsidised residential aged care, home care and flexible care (including Short-Term Restorative Care) as and when appropriate. ACATs conduct a comprehensive assessment of the restorative, physical, medical, psychological, cultural and social dimensions of a person’s needs, and/or promote their independence as and when appropriate. | ACUTE CARE                   | Acute Care in the context of Short-Term Restorative Care is care in which the clinical intent or treatment goal is to:
  • cure illness or provide definitive treatment of injury;
  • relieve symptoms of illness or injury (excluding palliative care);
  • reduce severity of an illness or injury;
  • protect against exacerbation and/or complication of an illness and/or injury which could threaten life or normal function; or
  • perform diagnostic or therapeutic procedures. Australian Institute of Health and Welfare (AIHW), 2012, National Health Data Dictionary. Note: ‘perform surgery’ and ‘manage labour (obstetric)’ has been removed due to the target population of Short-Term Restorative Clients. |

| AUSTRALIAN PRIVACY PRINCIPLES         | The Australian Privacy Principles took effect from 12 March 2014 as a result of changes to the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth). These new principles relate to the National Privacy Principles (NPPs) and the Information Privacy Principles (IPPs) (except for ACT agencies who continue to be covered by the IPPs). The APPs:
- deal with all stages of the processing of personal information, setting out standards for the collection, use disclosure, quality and security of personal information; and
- provide obligations on agencies and organisations subject to the Privacy Act (1988) concerning access to, and correction of, an individual’s own personal information. |
| CARE PLAN                             | A plan developed by the Short-Term Restorative Care approved provider in consultation with the client. The care plan describes the goals of Short-Term Restorative Care agreed with the client, the type of services to be provided, the frequency and hours of actual service provision, the location at which the service will be provided and the respective responsibilities of the service agency, its staff and the client. The care plan for Short-Term Restorative Care should be informed by the client’s GP or other relevant medical or clinical professional and the ACAT. |
| CLIENT                                | A person applying for or receiving Short-Term Restorative Care services.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| CARER                                 | Carers can include family members, next of kin, friends or neighbours who have been identified as providing regular and sustained care and assistance to the client. Carers frequently live with the person for whom they are caring. A carer may also be the client’s advocate.                                                                                                                                      |
| COMMONWEALTH HOME SUPPORT PROGRAMME   | The Commonwealth Home Support Programme (CHSP) is a consolidated programme that provides entry-level home support for older people who need assistance to keep living independently at home and in their community. Carers of these clients will also benefit from services provided through the CHSP. The CHSP brings together four programmes:
- Commonwealth Home and Community Care (HACC) Programme
- National Respite for Carers Programme (NRCP)
- Day Therapy Centres (DTC) Programme
- Assistance with Care and Housing for the Aged (ACHA) Programme |
| DEMENTIA                              | Dementia is an umbrella term describing a syndrome associated with around 100 different diseases that are characterised by the impairment of brain functions, including language, memory, perception, personality and cognitive skills. Although the type and severity of symptoms and their pattern of development varies with the type of dementia, it is usually of gradual onset and progressive in nature. |
| FLEXIBLE CARE                         | Flexible care means care provided in a residential or community setting through an aged care service that addresses the needs of clients in alternative ways to the care provided through residential care services and home care services. <td>NSAF – NATIONAL SCREENING AND ASSESSMENT FORM</td>
<td>The NSAF has been designed to support the collection of information for the screening and assessment processes conducted under My Aged Care. The NSAF ensures that questions are appropriate to each level of assessment (screening, home support assessment or comprehensive assessment); that there is no duplication which would result in the client having to repeat their story; and that the appropriate client pathway can be facilitated through the completion of an action plan or support plan. The NSAF also includes a set of decision support rules that assists the screening and assessment workforce to make recommendations for the type of support a client requires.</td>

<tr>
<td>REHABILITATION</td>
<td>Rehabilitation, in the context of Short-Term Restorative Care, is a form of subacute care as outlined in section 4 of the Subsidy Principles 2014 - see ‘Subacute Care’ below. Short-Term Restorative Care is not a substitute for rehabilitation and should only commence after completion of the client’s rehabilitation care episode.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>REPRESENTATIVE</td>
<td>Representative of a client means: (a) a person nominated by the client as a person the care recipient wishes to participate in decisions relating to his or her care; or (b) a *partner, carer, or *close relation of the client; or (c) a person who holds an enduring power of attorney given by the client to decide the health care and other kinds of personal services the client is to receive; or (d) a person appointed by a state or territory guardianship board (however described) to decide the health care and other kinds of personal services the client is to receive. Section 44-26B Aged Care Act 1997 *partner, in relation to a person, means the other member of a couple of which the person is also a member. *carer is a person who provides domestic services and support to a client otherwise than for remuneration (whether from the client or any other person) on a regular basis, but who may be in receipt of a carer allowance or carer payment from the Australian Government. *close relation, in relation to a person, means a: (a) parent of the person; or (b) sister, brother, child or grandchild of the person; or (c) person included in a class of persons specified in the Subsidy Principles. Section 44-11 of the Aged Care Act 1997</td>

<td>RESIDENTIAL AGED CARE</td>
<td>Residential care is personal and/or nursing care that is provided to a person in a residential facility in which the person is also provided with accommodation that includes appropriate staffing, meals, cleaning services, as well as furnishings, furniture and equipment for the provision of that care and accommodation. However, residential care does not include care provided to a person in the person’s private home; care provided in a hospital or in a psychiatric facility; or care provided in a facility that primarily provides care to people who are not frail and aged. Section 41-3 of the Aged Care Act 1997 and Section 41-3 of the Aged Care (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997</td>
