2.1 About this grant opportunity

This grant opportunity: Seed funding for adaptive technology projects to enable consumers to stay in their home is one of six separate grant opportunities available through the DACS Research and Innovation Funding Round.

The Department of Health is seeking to provide seed funding for adaptive technology projects that enable consumers to stay in their own homes. Projects with a focus on assisting people living with dementia to stay in their own homes will be prioritised.

The DACS Research and Innovation Funding Round can fund activities that involve the dissemination of information through the application of digital channels, online or technology-delivered support.

The DACS Research and Innovation Funding Round can also fund activities supporting structural changes and reforms in the aged care sector to ensure that medical services are available to older Australians who are sick or experiencing or living with medical conditions.

In addition, the DACS Research and Innovation Funding Round can fund activities supporting individual older Australians who are sick or living with medical conditions that cover strengthening the capacity of the health and aged care sectors to provide services for older people with dementia.

2.2 Outcomes of this grant opportunity

A successful project should aim to achieve at least one of the following:

- increase the independence and confidence of individuals to support them to continue to live in their own homes, and
- increase the ease and safety with which individuals and their carers perform daily tasks.

The Department of Health monitors and evaluates program performance to ensure activities and grant recipients have a focus on outcomes for beneficiaries through effective and efficient use of funds and resources. Additional information on the DACS Fund performance indicators and project evaluation is provided in Section 12 of these grant guidelines.

Department of Health performance indicators focus on three key questions:

- are we achieving what we expected?
- how well is it being done?
- how much is being done?

Performance indicators based on these questions may be included in the grant agreement for the grant recipients.

3. Grant amount

$34 million has been allocated to fund projects selected under the DACS Research and Innovation Funding Round. This funding provides support for projects commencing in the 2016/17 financial year and concluding before 30 June 2019.

8.7 Further grant opportunities
If there are not enough suitable applications to meet the program’s objectives, the Department of Health may approach selected providers with demonstrated capacity to develop a proposal which is in line with the intent of this opportunity.

9. Notification of application outcomes
You will be advised of the outcomes of your application in writing, following a decision by the FAS, Ageing and Aged Care Services Division. Advice to successful applicants will contain details of any specific conditions attached to the grant.
Dementia and Aged Care Services Research and Innovation Funding Round: Seed funding for adaptive technology projects to enable consumers to stay in their own home grant opportunity

If you are unsuccessful, the Department of Health will notify you in writing. You can submit a new application for the same project (or a similar project) in any future funding rounds. You should include new or further information to address any weaknesses identified in your previous application.

9.1 Feedback
Following the completion of the grants process, generic feedback on applications will be made available on the Department of Health’s webpage.

10. Successful grant applications

10.1 Grant agreement
If the application is successful, the applicant will be required to enter into a legally binding grant agreement with the Commonwealth represented by the Department of Health. The department may use the Department of Health’s Standard Funding Agreement. The standard terms and conditions for the grant agreement will apply and cannot be changed. Any additional conditions attached to the grant will be identified in the grant offer or during the grant agreement negotiations.

The applicant will be required to meet certain milestones and deliverables under each activity that will be set out in the grant agreement.

The department will negotiate with successful applicants with the aim of having grant agreements signed and returned to the department to enable timely commencement of activities under the grant opportunity. If there are unreasonable delays in negotiating a grant agreement, the grant offer may be withdrawn and the grant may be awarded to a different applicant.

The department is committed to a comprehensive and systematic approach to the effective management of potential opportunities and adverse effects. Any contractual arrangement may be managed according to its level of risk to the Commonwealth. As such, the Program may be subject to a risk management assessment prior to the negotiation of any contractual arrangement and periodically thereafter.

Where a grant recipient fails to meet the obligations of the grant agreement, the department may cease grant funding after attempting to rectify the issue with the grant recipient. Further details will be provided in the successful applicant’s grant agreement with the department.

Financial commitments in expectation of receiving the grant should not be entered into until a grant agreement has been signed by the Commonwealth.
